

BLOG MUSIC

ADD COMMENT LOVE IT SAVE IT

Quiet Clubbing Festival brings a noiseless dance party to Coney Island

Share Tweet 244 G+ Got a tip? Send it to tips@timeout.com

By Andrew Friscano
Posted: Wednesday August 3 2016, 5:11pm

Photograph: Filip Wolak

What sorts of things do you demand in your clubbing? Fire Twirlers? LED Hula dancers? Facepainting? Probably some DJs, right? LED Robots with air canons? Say no more! If you said yes to all the above, but no to actual floating-through-the-air musical vibrations, then the Quiet Clubbing Festival is the event for you. On Saturday, August 27, the party takes over Coney Island's Art Walls for a 4pm-midnight dance party with no actual airborne sound. You'll get a pair of wireless headphones for the tunes, which are separated into three channels: "Top 40 Dance Hits," "Throwbacks and Mashups" and "Hip-Hop, R&B, Reggae, Soca." Get your tickets at QuietFestival.com.

PROMOTED
Find your creative space at 101 Greene Street
Sonos's first ever retail space offers respite, and inspiration, with a series of unique creative spaces in SoHo
READ MORE ->
by Time Out in association with Sonos

Share Tweet 244 G+ ADD COMMENT

By Andrew Friscano 110 Posts
Andrew is the Music editor at Time Out New York. Catch him at your local music venue, taqueria or cineplex. Follow him on Twitter at @andrewfriscano.

- ### MOST RECENT POSTS
- Everything we know about the new Brooklyn Night Bazaar ->
  - JetBlue is offering super cheap $39 flights right now ->
  - The best remaining summer music festivals 2016 ->
  - Sponsored Content
How to Take Your Camping Trip to the Next Level
By VISIT FLORIDA ->
  - This interactive map shows every sidewalk cafe in NYC ->

